

For the first time in its history the Texas Daily Newspaper association is meeting in our neighborhood city of Texarkana, opening today a convention which will run through Saturday.

Press associations almost invariably meet at some central point deep in the interior of their state—in Arkansas, for instance, the State Press and the Associated Press annual meetings are customarily held in either Hot Springs or Little Rock.

For the Texas publishers to come the way to Texarkana would be like holding an Arkansas state convention in either Fort Smith or Blytheville. As a matter of fact, it's farther from El Paso to Texarkana than it is from Texarkana to Chicago—as all of you know who have crossed the western plains by car.

Therefore it's a valued tribute to the Arkansas-Texas-Louisiana area that the dailies of the Lone Star state have chosen Texarkana for today's meeting.

Arkansas newspaper men are appreciative of the progressive publishers who have helped make Texas what it is. And not always does Texas require that a progressive idea have to originate with itself.

Ten years ago this writer, C. E. Palmer, and Ray Kimball of De Queen, Tex. (then publisher of Magnolia Banner-News) proposed to set up the first automatic newspaper typesetting circuit in the United States. We were going to turn the Associated Press teletype copy into perforated tape at Hot Springs, telegraph it to Hope, Magnolia, Camden and El Dorado, and then turn it into type with the aid of the newly-invented machine known as the Teletypesetter—an adapter which replaces the standard linotype keyboard and makes the operation automatic.

This was a great and costly experiment—but the Texas publishers heard about our plans and were intrigued. They were intrigued to the extent of offering to put up half the money without interest, from their mechanical research fund—a proposition which we accepted.

Well, Teletypesetter is history now—a great success, with four additional cities today served by the Arkansas wire—Texarkana, De Queen, Stuttgart and Helena (a total of eight)—and the Texas wire long since repaid.

What did the Texans get out of their co-operation? They got detailed reports and the know-how which helped them set up in their own state several circuits like the one which started the trend right here in Arkansas (our actual starting date was June 19, 1942).

Wherever newspapers are printed—in North Carolina, in California, in Canada, in Australia—they know about the Southwest Arkansas Teletypesetter circuit; and the Texans gathering in Texarkana today helped bring about that experiment and its eventual success.

Therefore we have a special interest in today's Texarkana convention—and wish the visitors a pleasant stay and a good look at a mighty good section of the U.S.A.

Russia Creating Strong Defense in Red-China

Washington, Feb. 16—(AP)—Highly placed diplomats here believe that Russia is maneuvering to create three distinct spheres of Communist control in Asia, south of Siberia. Concern for Russia's own security appears to be the primary factor.

This objective, according to the experts, probably was behind the Soviet strategy in the Russian-Chinese conference which went on in Moscow for the past nine weeks.

The first sphere embraces Manchuria, Inner Mongolia, Outer Mongolia and Sinkiang.

These are the vast, traditionally Chinese, border areas which Secretary of State Acheson says the Russians are taking away from China and adding to the Soviet Union. To the extent that Russia controls these areas directly or through their agents will have a buffer zone between the Soviet Union proper and the Asiatic lands to the south, much as the satellite states in Eastern Europe form a buffer against the West.

The second sphere is China. Even though the Chinese nation is now under Communist rule, experts here believe the Russians feel they cannot rely on Chinese economic and political stability for the predictable future. Therefore, while maintaining the closest possible relations with Red China and dominating Chinese internal and foreign policies, they will not expect the same degree of security for Russia through their alliance with China as they presumably seek to establish in the northern borderlands.

Southeast Asia forms the third sphere. Indonesia, Burma, Siam and Malaya are believed in Washington to be marked out for the next stage of Communist expansion in Asia. The cold war struggle for Indochina has already begun. This southeast Asian region, being more remote from Russia, may be the primary responsibility of the Chinese Communists, rather than of Moscow.

On the assumption that the Russians are taking over northern China, American experts believe the Kremlin strategists are seeking to divert Chinese energies and interests southward. New Red victories in that area would be expected to turn the attention of the Chinese people from the gradual extension of direct Soviet control in the north.

Syvelle Burke today announced the purchase of Hitt's Shoe Store at 112 West 2nd street in downtown Hope. The store name will be changed to Burke's Brownbilt Shoe Store.

James T. West Announces for Representative

James T. West, Hope's newest attorney, formerly announced today that he is a candidate for State Representative and will file for Position Number 2. Mr. West graduated from the University of Arkansas school of Law January 28, 1950 and was licensed to practice law in this state by the Supreme Court on January 30.

He is the son of Mrs. Charles A. West of Hope, who has been employed at George W. Robinson and Co., for the past several years, and the late Charles A. West of Hempstead county. His father was born and reared in this county and farmed here until his death in 1935.

James West was born and lived on his father's farm about 7 miles northeast of Hope near the Piney Grove Community until his father's death. Shortly after Mr. West's passing Mrs. West moved to Hope with her two sons, James, who at that time was 8 years old, and Charles William, 10, where they attended the public schools and grew to manhood.

Upon graduation from Hope High school in 1944 James enlisted in the Navy Air Corps. After an honorable discharge from the Navy he attended Henderson State Teachers college at Arkadelphia for 2 semesters and then enrolled at the University of Arkansas.

In his formal announcement Mr. West said:

"Never before in the history of our State has our government been faced with such complex and pressing problems. We are burdened with debt, yet state expenditures have not been curtailed and we are harassed with ever increasing taxes. Economy must be practiced in our state so that taxes may be reduced and our debt retired. Your next Legislature should economize and reduce taxes."

"It is with knowledge and understanding of the serious duties and responsibilities of the office that I seek your support and vote in the approaching primary election. If elected one of your representatives, I pledge to faithfully serve and work for the better interest of Hempstead county and our State."

"Your support, votes and efforts in my behalf will be deeply appreciated. If elected I will work for economy and seek relief from the heavy tax burden which is imposed upon everyone."

"The encouragement given me by my many friends to seek this office is deeply appreciated."

Six Members of B-36 Crew Still Missing

McChord Air Force Base, Wash., Feb. 16—(AP)—Six crew members of an abandoned air force B-36 were reported still missing today along the rugged British Columbia coast.

A coast guard report last night that all 17 of the men had been picked up or located was without substantiation this morning.

Hopes that all of the 17 had been rescued were blasted rudely this morning. The coast guard information office here said the original report that all were located, and safe, had come from an Alaska base, but that it later was corrected.

Comdr. F. J. Scheiber at the coast guard's Ketchikan base said this morning that there was no information up to that time on the other six men. He said the best that could be presumed by searchers, on the basis of information at his base, was that the missing men parachuted into the same general island area.

The 17 men parachuted from the ice-weighted B-36 during Monday night. They landed on two rugged, wooded islands off the northern British Columbia coast, about 400 miles northwest of Vancouver, B.C. Ten of the survivors were flown here last night in a C-82 "Flying Boxcar."

Aided By Modern Gadgets the Modern Man Seems to Be at Home in the Wild Woods

By SAUL PETT (For Hal Boyle)

New York—(AP)—Pity the modern city man roughing it, say, in the wilds of the north woods. He knows nothing about the whims or demands of nature. All his life has been spent in a comfortable apartment with everything provided. Now, he's alone in the north woods, this pale, unresourceful man with no talent for living outdoors.

Will he make it? Well, just grant him one concession. Give him all the latest gadgets which are provided by thoughtful outfitters for campers, hunters, explorers.

So, our modern city man, name of Herbert, is trudging along the trail, alone, nervous and laden with equipment. The wind comes. He removes a compact pocket heater from his knapsack. He doesn't have to know how it works but it works with chemicals, gives off no flame. Our hero warms the inside of his gloves and then his ankles inside his boots.

Will it turn colder or rain tomorrow? How will Herbert know? He simply looks at the clouds, judges the wind direction from his compass, then consults his compact, pocket-size weather guide. He reads the forecast, "fair." Fine, nothing to worry about.

But alas, our boy gets thirsty. Foolish Herbert, he didn't bring any water. He stumbles onto a stream. Is it safe to drink? Can he tell? He can't. So he digs into a pocket for his small water filter which is attached to a long tube. He drops the filter into the water and drinks without worrying about impurities.

Walking back to the trail, our hero scratches his forehead on an overhanging branch. Quickly, he reaches for the iodine in his compact, comprehensive, three-pound first aid and medical equipment kit.

Herbert signs relieved. He doesn't need the compact, five-ounce snake bite kit which he has brought along.

Dusk falls on the lonely trail in the tall timber. Our hero decides it's time to pitch camp. He unfolds

Lewis Ready to Make Stiffer Money Demands; Suggests Bill to Curb Power of Mine Boss

U. S. Aid Ready for All Against Communism

Bibbkok, Feb. 16—(AP)—The United States today was reported ready to give military equipment and economic aid to Southeast Asian nations willing to stand up against the southward sweep of communism.

This was the major move developed out of a three-day conference here of American diplomats of the Far East, highly competent sources said. No American troops would be involved.

The meeting ended yesterday as the announcement of an alliance between Soviet Russia and Communist China cast a deepening Red shadow over this part of the world. To many it seemed the Reds timed the announcement to take the edge off the American conference.

The treaty added to the already great fears of Southeast Asian nations that they would be engulfed by communism that is rampant on this troubled continent. Some of the American diplomats were represented as believing even now it is too late for U.S. aid to check it. American policy for Asia still must be set in Washington but these positions reportedly agreed upon by the diplomats would be considered in its formulation.

Ozan Lbr. Co. Workers Vote for Union

Ozan Lumber Co. employees of Prescott yesterday voted to join the AFL United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (local 3168) with 82 workmen casting ballots, Edd Chambliss, AFL representative announced today.

Conducting the election were Victor Hess, Sr., field examiner of the National Labor Relations Board Charles Niemeyer and A. Cole, representatives of the Prescott local and Mr. Chambliss.

The next step will be to negotiate a working contract with the company which showed us every courtesy and was very cooperative, Mr. Chambliss said.

Washington, Feb. 16—(AP)—Hints that John L. Lewis is readying stiffer money demands on coal operators came today as strike effects spread steadily in basic industries using coal for fuel.

David L. Cole, President Truman's personal observer in the court-directed coal dispute bar gaining meetings, declined to tell reporters whether Lewis already has boosted his demands.

Lewis, barred from seeking four of his key contract terms, is reported determined to get instead a healthy wage and welfare fund boost, a shorter work week and a seniority system for employing miners.

Besides the union ship and union controlled welfare fund setup, Lewis now is restrained by federal court order from insisting that miners work only when "able and willing" and that they may take long "memorial period holidays." These clauses had been bitterly opposed by the industry.

Previously Lewis has indicated he would settle for a $15 daily wage for miners, compared with the present $14.05 rate, and a 35 cent tonnage royalty for the well fare fund for miners' pensions and other benefits in place of the present 20 cent royalty.

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH Washington, Feb. 16—(AP)—Senator Robertson (D-Va) called today for speedy enactment of a bill which he said would curb the "monopolistic powers" of John L. Lewis.

The measure would make labor unions subject to the anti-trust laws if they restrained trade unreasonably in industries affecting the national health and safety.

Robertson, sponsor of the bill, said in a statement prepared for a senate judiciary subcommittee that Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers union, is "vested with monopolistic powers." Lewis, the senator added, is using those powers to control the production as well as the price of coal.

That is the effect of the three-day mine week put in effect by Lewis, Robertson told the subcommittee.

Lewis' tactics, he added, tend to drive out small business and "put remaining big business under the control of a monopolist."

Robertson said that a actually Lewis' "control of production and prices" has spread to allied industries "and has had a serious impact upon our whole economy."

"In fact, no business combination of which I ever heard has achieved the kind of arbitrary power and control that John L. Lewis now possesses and wields."

Robertson was booked as the first witness at the subcommittee's public hearings on his bill. A committee aide said Lewis was invited to testify but sent word he would be unable to appear.

"He said in effect," the senator reported, "that he is occupied elsewhere."

That obviously was a reference to the government's court action against the mine chief under the Taft-Hartley law. A restraining order granted last Saturday directed Lewis to tell the miners to go back to work.

Lewis told the diggers about the order, but they have ignored it. However, negotiations have been resumed—another step the court ordered.

Opportunities Listed for Small Farmers

The 4-H club Extension school which was conducted at Blevins Training school pointed to several possible ways for the Negro farmer to make adjustments to the acreage control problem.

Methods and techniques of growing a garden throughout the year were discussed. Livestock farming offers interesting possibilities. However, the farmer was cautioned to plan well his pasture; before he invested too much of his savings in livestock. The animals must have plenty of feed and water at all times.

Several of the more successful farmers discussed the possibility of starting a small farmers cooperation association.

Saving the farmers meat from the "skipped" fly was an interesting topic. The old methods of saving meat were discussed by some of the farmers. These were compared with the newer methods used by other farmers. At last, all agreed that the recommendation given by Howard G. Ford, extension meat specialist, seems to be the surest way, and it is very simple and inexpensive as well. Mr. Ford said that a good way for storing cured meats is to wrap them in heavy wrapping paper and then in a tightly woven cloth bag, making sure all edges are tightly closed. Antiskipper compounds can then be dusted on the outside of the bag.

The Blevins 4-H club officers conducted the formal 4-H club opening exercise. Other 4-H club members and officers were present. The McCaskill club, Nolen club, Antioch, Green Hill, Iron Springs, and several club leaders and parents. The district Farm and home demonstration agents from Little Rock were present.

Through the day, H. C. Ray, along with the assistant county farm agent and assistant county home demonstration agent, the home economic teacher and agriculture teacher served as consultants.

Group Refuses to Send FEPC Bill to House

Washington, Feb. 16—(AP)—The house rules committee today refused to send a bill to clear an anti-discrimination FEPC bill for house action.

Four Democrats and two Republicans voted to keep the bill in committee pigeonhole which has been since last summer. An equal number of Democrats and Republicans voted to give the house a chance to settle the issue.

Voting to approve the measure were Reps. H. E. Sawyer (R-Mass.), Brown (R-Ohio), Dolney (D-N.Y.), Madden (D-Ind.), McSweeney (D-Ohio) and Sabath (D-Ill.).

Voting against the bill were Reps. Allen (R-Ill.), Wardworth (R-N.Y.), Cox (D-Ga.), Howarth (D-Va.), Colmer (D-Miss.) and Lyle (D-Texas).

Some backers of FEPC had hoped Allen might change his vote allowing the bill to go to the floor. Allen said in advance, however, that he had no such intentions and he voted against the bill.

If it fails to win rules committee approval, the bill is scheduled to come up for a house decision next Wednesday under restrictive procedure allowing only two hours for general debate.

This procedure is known as the "calendar Wednesday" rule and allows committees to obtain house votes regardless of rules committee opposition. But the bill brought up under this rule, must be disposed of in one day unless a two-thirds vote decides to extend the time.

Washington, Feb. 16—(AP)—The senate agriculture committee voted 6 to 2 today to remove all government price supports from Irish potatoes until rigid planting and marketing controls are put into operation.

Aunt Jemima was a mammy cook, famous in the Old South in those golden days "befo' de Wah". They tell us her master was Colonel Higbee, owner of a plantation at Higbee's Landing, Louisiana, on the Mississippi River.

Colonel Higbee's hospitality was famous even in that universally hospitable era. Famous because of his qualities as a host, famous because of Aunt Jemima's cooking. Guests carried away memories that made their mouths water, and told tales of the Higbee table that made the listener dream of an invitation.

Nevada Youth Faces Charge of Murder

Prescott, Feb. 16 — (AP) — A 14-year-old Nevada county schoolboy was charged with first degree murder yesterday in connection with the death of a Bluff City teacher February 6.

Prosecuting Attorney James H. Pilkinton filed the charges against James Edward Norman, Bluff City.

The teacher, Mrs. Mollie Meadows, died in a Prescott hospital following an explosion at the school. The information filed today charges young Norman with opening gas vents in the school house with intent to cause the explosion and kill Mrs. Meadows when she attempted to light fires.

Pilkinton said he also filed a petition in juvenile court here charging the boy with burglarizing the home of Tom Kirk near Bluff City last September. The prosecutor asked that he be declared a juvenile delinquent and be committed to the state boy's industrial school.

The youth is being held in Nevada county jail here.

Merchants Seek Excise Tax Repeal

Washington, Feb. 16 — (AP) — The nation's merchants — little ones and big ones — tried hard on Capitol Hill today for outright repeal of war imposed excise taxes.

Rowland Jones, Jr., president of the American Retail Federation, told the house way and means committee:

"The taxation of production and distribution of goods and services though excise taxes has no place in a peacetime tax structure regardless of deficit or debt. Such taxation is a burden and a hurdle in the path of an expanding economy."

The committee now is considering President Truman's proposal for tax law revisions. The administration has asked that excise cuts be held to $655,000,000, with the reductions covering only jewelry, luggage, furs, toilet articles, travel tickets, transportation of property and long distance telephone calls and telegrams.

Truman Hints Peace Mission Possibility

Washington, Feb. 16 — (AP) — President Truman hinted today he still has in mind a possible special peace mission to Russia at some future time.

He dashed cold water on the idea of a possible "big three" meeting abroad, newly raised by a campaign speech of Winston Churchill, former British prime minister.

Public Workers Object of CIO Purge

Washington, Feb. 16 — (AP) — The CIO's purge of leftwing unions charged with following every "twist and turn and zig and zag" of Communist policy — was aimed today at the United Public Workers, an organization of government employees.

The executive board, consisting of the heads of all CIO unions, voted yesterday to toss out three unions — the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, The United Office and Professional Workers, and the Food, Tobacco and Agricultural Workers. Their membership totals about 80,000. The Public Workers has 30,000.

Action on the Public Workers, headed by Abram Flaxer, was expected to be a mere formality.

7 Killed in Chemical Plant Blast

Midland, Mich., Feb. 16 — (UP) — An explosion ripped through the latex plant of the Dow Chemical company today, killing seven workers and injuring several others. The Dow public relations office said seven men were killed by the blast and at least six injured.

The explosion ripped the roof and one side from the structure. Flames shot through the gaping hole.

All available fire equipment and ambulances in this city of 10,000 were rushed to the plant. Hospitals as far away as Saginaw, 26 miles distant, were alerted to care for casualties. Ten injured were reported on their way there.

The blast occurred at 11:25 a.m. The public relations office said the number of casualties might mount as rescuers finish probing the wreckage.

Huge Sum of Money Taken by Mistake

Abilene, Tex., Feb. 16 — (AP) — Two Newark, N. J., men told police here that by mistake they carried off a briefcase containing about half a million dollars in negotiable government purchasing orders.

The valuable orders were turned over to state police in Arkansas as soon as the mistake was discovered, said Louis S. Green and his companion, Oscar Beim.

Green and Beim appeared at the Abilene police station last night. They said they had read a story in the Abilene Reporter-News that FBI men were still looking for the orders.

"We did it," Green told Chief of Police Raymond Eakins. "But it was a mistake."

Here's the story Green and Beim told:

Enroute to Los Angeles, they stopped in a Knoxville, Tenn., hotel coffee shop. They left their bags in the lobby.

When they finished their coffee, they put their bags in their car and drove on to Little Rock, Ark. There they discovered a briefcase that did not belong to them.

Inside the briefcase was approximately $500,000 in purchasing orders and the name: Arthur G. Huey, Minneapolis, Minn. Regional Engineer, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Green and Beim said they immediately took the briefcase and its contents to Arkansas state police.

cooking had added many years of labor and experiment.

And the achievement that she valued most was the secret recipe for her most famous of delicious dishes — Aunt Jemima Pancakes.

They say it was when she baked pancakes — for breakfast, lunch, or supper — that Colonel Higbee would call Aunt Jemima in to the dining room and praise her before his guests. And the happy smile his words brought to her face was widened by the enthusiastic compliments of the guests.

That's the kind of cooking Aunt Jemima will bring to the B & B Super Market Saturday.

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait. Try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's surprising how quick time Doan's Pills help. They hold the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

AN ADVOCATE FOR INTELLIGENT WOMEN

Answer: Nobody knows why intelligent men so often pick out stupid women for wives. They don't know themselves.

Probably the reason why this is thus is primarily a matter of sex-attraction. Or because they imagine that a dull wife is easier to manage than a smart one. They think that a clever woman will have ideas and opinions of her own, but that a slow-witted one will simply sit at their feet and yes-yes them and be generally as wax in their hands.

More Pliable
Never was there a greater mistake. The more intelligent a woman is, the more pliable she is, the easier to deal with, the more amenable she is to argument. She can see both sides of a subject. She can adapt herself to certain standards. She can overcome her prejudices and correct her faults and do a thousand things that make her livable.

But the stupid woman is hopeless. No man can alter her or improve her. The early impressions she gained as a child stay with her to the end of life and against them her husband beats himself in vain. She is filled with prejudices that are set in solid concrete and neither experience nor argument ever dulls the edge of a single one.

And the queer thing about it all is that, while men pick out wives for every other reason under the sun except for their sense, they all want their wives to have sense, and plenty of it, after they get married. Because it takes intelligence of the highest order to enable a woman to get along in peace with a man and make a comfortable home, and manage her end of the domestic partnership successfully, and to bear and rear him children who will be an honor to him.

with a disease that was much more prevalent many years ago than it is now. It is "new rich-tits". Their money goes to many women's heads and swells them out of all reason.

Many women have suffered with his complaint and, in fact, it may be said that it takes one with an unusually strong mind to stand sudden prosperity. Take away from her the work which has kept her hands busy and her mind occupied and plunge her into idleness and she is sure to get into mischief.

In your case your wife is the victim of her own suppressed desires. She was a poor girl who craved pretty clothes and couldn't have them, so now is dress-mad. She married before she had any play time and now she cannot get enough of parties. She married her first beau and now she is avid for flirtations and love-making.

Undoubtedly a separation, with a drastic cutting down of her allowance, would be a good remedy to apply to the situation. But I don't believe that breaking up your home and separating yourself from your children would make you any happier than you are. Often it is better to endure the ill we have than to try to make it know not of.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 18 and in love with a man who wants to get married. But I feel that if I marry now my chances for travel are gone for good. I think I am too young to marry, anyway, but he will not wait. Many people tell me that one should marry one's first love. I am afraid that if I wait I will lose him.

ALMOST NINETEEN
Answer: You are right in thinking that if you marry your chances for travel are postponed in all likelihood until you have reared your family and are free again. I think you are too young to marry, particularly as you seem to prefer a trip to Europe to a trip to the altar.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McDougald Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Fifty-four guests enjoyed a fiftieth anniversary party and reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McDougald held at the McDougald home on West Walnut street Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12, in spite of a steady down-pour of rain. The guests were greeted at the door by Reese McDougald. Mrs. Reese McDougald took their wraps and saw that each guest was served. Mrs. James Harris pinned a little corsage of gold ribbon on each person who came. Mrs. Paul Harris was in charge of the guest book, and the gifts were displayed in an interesting manner by Miss Martha Harris.

The dining room was beautiful, decorated with daffodils and carnations. The windows were hung with white crepe paper drapes and large bows of gold were placed at the ends and at other appropriate places. Over the door were numerals in gold representing the dates 1900-50 on a background of white satin ribbon fastened at the ends with large bows of gold-sprayed paper. In the center of the dining table which was covered with a white lace cloth, was an adorable arrangement of yellow wedgewood Dutch iris and daffodils intermingled with green acacia and gold-sprayed phumosis. In the midst of these were five golden bells. The huge three-tier cake decorated with gold colored icing in symbols of yellow roses was cut by Mrs. Dawson Henry and served on gold trimmed napkins with salted peanuts and mints of white and gold. A delicious punch was ladled and served in gold bordered cups by Mrs. Ralph Harris.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. McDougald received telephone calls from all of their six children who were unable to attend the reception. Two daughters, Mrs. Gladys NaDeau and Mrs. Leatha Loveless called from Arlington, Virginia. Dr. C. H. McDougald called from Washington, D. C. and Jadie B. McDougald, from Landover Hills, Maryland. Their other two children, Reese McDougald and Mrs. Mont Harris live here.

Flowers were received from friends in Ava, Ill. and Carlsbad, New Mex. Telegrams of congratulation came from Booneville, Ark. and Washington, D. C. Many lovely gifts and cards were sent in by friends who could not be present.

The guests were invited into the dining room where the serving table was covered with a net cloth and held a central arrangement of jonquils in a crystal bowl flanked by yellow candles. In matching holders, Mrs. Hanning presided at the coffee service. Individual yellow cakes embossed with white bows carried out the yellow and white color scheme and were served by Miss Ina Nell Loomis.

Guests included: Miss Bell, Mrs. Miller Crain, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Thel Hanning, Mrs. Harrell Hines, Mrs. W. P. Prescott, Mrs. Kenneth Coffield, Mrs. Sidney Loomis, Miss Ina Nell Loomis, Mrs. Jack Cooper, Mrs. Clifton Yancey, Mrs. Leroy Phillips, Mrs. L. L. Buchanan, Mrs. Roy Stainton and Mrs. Malcolm Sample.

Red Tinged Union Ouster Is Likely

Washington, Feb. 15 — (AP) — A CIO committee recommended today to the CIO executive board that the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union be expelled for adhering to Communist party doctrines.

The committee was the first to report on investigations of four unions accused of following the Communist party program rather than CIO policy. All four faced almost certain ouster. Together they have less than 200,000 members.

Biggest of the four is the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers with slightly more than 100,000 members. It was one of the founding unions in the CIO a dozen years ago.

The committee reported to the CIO's 50-member, policy-making executive board. It said it had found testimony "demonstrating conclusively" that top policy of the union was dictated by Communist leaders.

The CIO committee said it had received testimony that a steering committee from the mine, mill and smelter workers met frequently with such Communist party leaders as William Z. Foster, chairman, and Eugene Dennis, the general secretary.

Senators Seeking Estimates on Defense Strength

Washington, Feb. 15 — (AP)—Two groups of senators were angling today for some solid estimates of this nation's defense strength. They're puzzled, they said, over recent statements that appear to conflict.

Proper distance for viewing a 16-inch television set is declared by the experts to be six to ten feet.

"Paw," said the farmer's boy, "I want to go to college and learn to be a doctor. Think I'll study obstetrics."

"Likely you'll be wastin' your time, son. Soon as you learn all about this obstetrics, somebody'll find a cure for it."

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

QUEEN OF THE FOLLIES for 20 years of the early Twentieth Century was Nora Bayes, seen above in a dainty negligee. Noted for her caprices, her gay romances and impulsive marriages (there were five), Miss Bayes was sometimes called "the most difficult" star in show business. She lived as she thought a big star of her day should, spent money lavishly, traveled in private cars, covered herself with jewels and conducted herself like a queen. No one disputed her right. She had superb talent, a wonderful voice and a great stage personality. One of her husbands was Jack Norworth, actor, songwriter and for a time her vaudeville partner. Most lasting monument to their teamwork is the classic "Shine On, Harvest Moon," which they wrote and made into a hit together.

Mississippi Backs Up Small Rivers

By The Associated Press

East Central Louisiana was afloat from backwater rises today as the swollen Mississippi lapped along, a little bit below the levee tops all the way from Cairo, Ill., to the Gulf.

It was touch and go whether the big stream would gush out of its man-made walls to make the biggest flood in 25 years.

At Cairo, near the junction of the Mississippi and the Ohio, the water gauge stood at its highest mark this year: 55.9 feet.

But there was encouraging news there — forecasters said that the two big streams would drop one tenth of a foot in the next 24 hours.

In Eastern Mississippi, rains sent the upper reaches of the Tombigbee swirling up past flood stage for the second time this year. At Aberdeen, Miss., The water wet the 38.4 mark on the gauge. That is 4.4 feet above flood stage. The stream, which empties into Mobile bay, was also slightly above the flood mark at Columbus, Miss.

In New England, the biggest storm of the season continued dumping snow. There were prospects of at least a foot of fresh snow by nightfall Wednesday. Many schools had to close in the face of the storm, and road conditions were poor and hazardous.

23 Persons Die on State Roads in January

Little Rock, Feb. 15 — (AP) — Twenty-three persons were killed on Arkansas highways in January. The death toll in January last year was 30, the report of state police Director Herman Lindsey shows.

The report lists a total of 185 persons injured in 330 accidents last month.

Arkansas Has Promise of Relief

By United Press

Arkansas weary of winter and floods held the promise of relief today from the three-way blow the weatherman landed this week.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock forecast clear skies for Thursday.

The record-breaking rains of the week-end had stopped early today, and the major rivers of the state were expected to crest without additional damage.

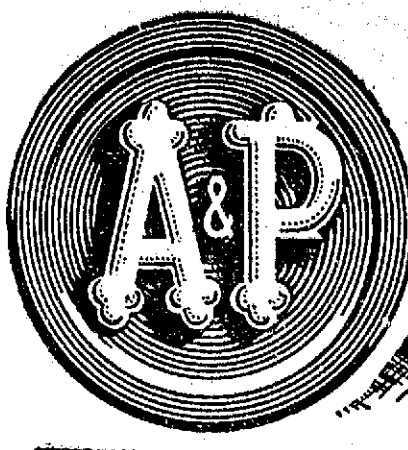

The upper White already has crested at Batesville and is expected to hit 30 feet and start falling at Newport Friday. The stage at Newport this morning was 29.7 feet. The Ouachita continued to fall at Arkadelphia but was rising at and below Camden. It is due to crest at 40 feet at Camden next Sunday. The stage at Camden this morning was 35.9 feet.

Rain in the northern half of Arkansas turned to snow yesterday morning that ranged from traces in some sections to three inches at Gilbert. However, the slides were clear throughout the state this morning, and yesterday's precipitation amounted to no more than four-hundredths of an inch.

Temperatures dropped to 21 degrees at Fayetteville last night. Other low temperatures were 24 at Harrison, 26 at Gilbert, 27 at Ozark and Arkadelphia, 28 at Dardanelle, 29 at Morrilton, 30 at Jonesboro, Batesville, El Dorado and Texarkana, 31 at Little Rock, Stuttgart, Pine Bluff, Walnut Ridge, and Newport, 32 at Camden and 33 at Blytheville.

A certain man came into possession of proof positive that another fellow was what is politely called running around with his wife. The injured party, being a man of intelligence and disliking violence, sent the intruder a letter inviting him to come to his office the following Tuesday so that they could discuss the unfortunate situation like civilized beings.

The following day he received this reply: "Dear Sir — Your form letter received. Regret that I will be unable to attend the meeting, but rest assured that whatever course the other fellows decide on will be okay with me."
